The IBHUMA Business Dinner is a business-to-business networking event that exudes exclusivity, bringing together C-suite executives and entrepreneurs from various sectors in Eswatini and the South African business community.

I “Ibhuma” is a Swati name for the majestic African “bulrush” – a tall perennial grass-like plant that grows in wetlands, used for weaving strong mats, baskets and chair seats. As a bulrush grows near water sources, the event will be a platform for strategic placement of participants where there are business opportunities and resources. The business dinner is where transformational ideas can soar, and connections can flourish amidst an atmosphere of grandeur.

The inaugural event is hosted by Bracefield Investment Group (BIG) and Pinaco & Co at Summerfield Botanical Garden & Exclusive Resort, in Eswatini on May 24, 2025, and will be succeeded by IBHUMA BRUNCH on a date yet to be confirmed.

Special guests, including private investors from South Africa have been invited to join the business conversation.

Bracefield Investment Group is a South African company specializing in investment advisory and commodity trading, with a strategic focus on natural resources and renewables sector.

Pinaco & Co is a Swati business consulting company that connects startups to investors with a mission to drive job creation and advance Africa’s economic transformation.

The Ibhuma Business Dinner is an output of last year’s Umliba Youth Entrepreneurship Conference and it bridges the gap between entrepreneurs, corporates and potential investors.
